

Careers, Placements & Postgraduate Fair 2024

October 22 | Chancellor's Building

10.30-15.30

ENJOY THE FAIR...

be inspired

This is a fantastic opportunity for you to research your ideas about graduate jobs, talk to companies to discuss their vacancies and find out how to secure a graduate role.

Before the fair

Have an open mind

The employers represented may offer opportunities you may not have considered before, you may be surprised at the diversity some employers have within their organisations. Find out as much as you can about the possible career paths.

Research the employers and the roles

Most recruiters will expect you to know something about them and to have a reason for approaching them specifically. You can see which employers are attending in this booklet. If you have an interest in any of them, look at their recruitment and information web pages so that you can prepare for them. These may be about recruitment, training or career progression. Even if you don't have any clear ideas do think about general questions that might benefit your career choice and job hunting.

Be proactive

If you have a specific career or company in mind, be ready to explain your interest, show motivation for and understanding of the specialisation and working culture – as much as possible at this stage!

First impressions

Present yourself as a future professional. Dress as a potential employee rather than a student and you will be perceived as such.

Prepare an introduction

Careers Fairs are great places to network/make introductions with employers, so of course it is important to make a positive impression. Think about how you will introduce yourself. Employers may also be interested in your degree, work experience and other activities.

Have confidence in yourself

You are soon to be a graduate with a range of knowledge and skills to offer. Be positive about your future and the contribution you can make to an employer.

At the fair

Be positive, polite and smile when approaching employers

Developing a good rapport or first impression with someone makes it more likely that they will help you and could be remembered if you make an application in the future. Tips to help you do this include: show interest, ask questions, be aware of your non-verbal communication, smiling, handshake and eye contact.

Ensure you visit targeted employers

These stands should be your priority. However, a Careers Fair also gives you the opportunity to find out about employers and career sectors that you may not have considered before.

Come and see one of the Careers Consultants

We will be there to check CVs and offer advice.

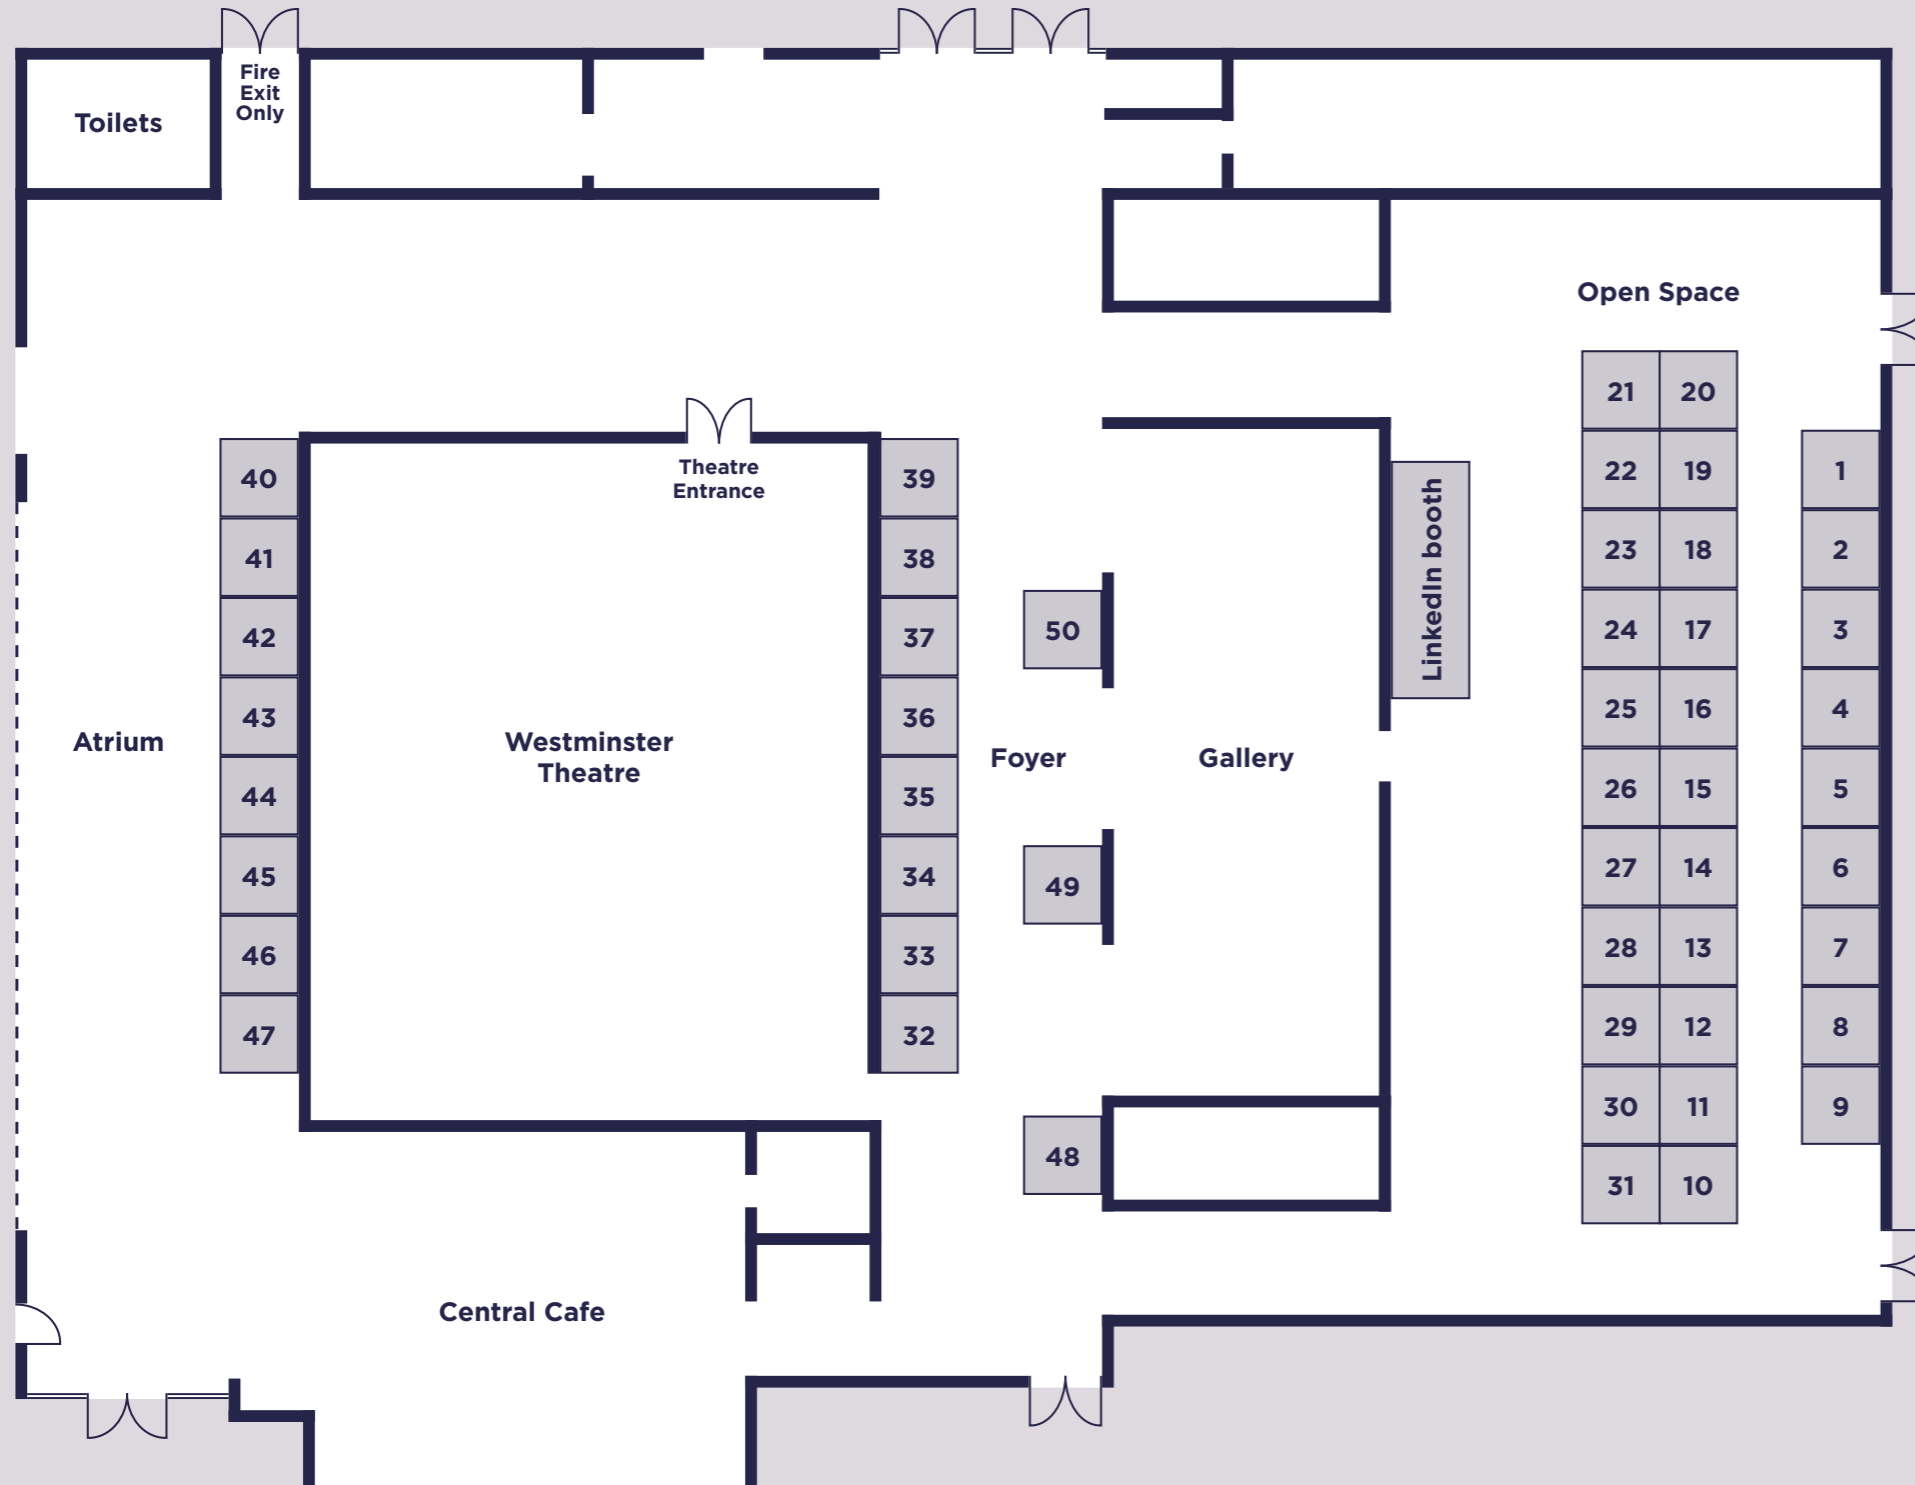

Improve your LinkedIn profile

A professional photographer will be available to take a formal headshot for your LinkedIn profile picture, which you can upload at the Fair. One of our consultants will also be offering feedback on how you can improve your profile.
